2 Left-Wingers Don't Love U.S. Navy and Girls

President Nixon yesterday singled out two hostile South American states in his annual report on U.S. foreign policy. The older of the two, Cuba, firmly entrenched in the Communist philosophy, is still "exporting revolution" throughout South America, and we can't entertain friendly relations with Havana until Castro changes his mind, Nixon said.

The other "hostile" is the new Red government of Chile, where the seizure of U.S.-owned copper mines is compounded by a strong hint that Chile may not pay for the seizures.

There's nothing new in all this. Time and again the larger, more prosperous nations have seen their foreign investments taken over by rebels in small countries. The only thing that has changed is the way the big nations meet such emergencies today.

Great Britain, a top-dog nation longer than any except the Roman Empire, used to take hard-fisted action when pound sterling abroad was threatened. If the local government wouldn't recompense British investors the British simply sent warships and marines to the scene of trouble—and blockaded the major seaports. The British took over the local country's custom houses and collected fees until British creditors were paid off. It was rough, but effective.

Today we attempt to negotiate without armed force. It hasn't worked so far with Cuba, but there is a chance that economic boycott may bring Chile around, for apparently there is more support for the U.S. among Chileans than among Cubans.

Chile is in a situation similar to that of the Arab countries which, having seized oil properties, now find no buyers for stolen goods. Chilean copper is going to be a tough commodity to sell on the world market.

You must have been amused by yesterday's AP account of the quarrel between the U.S. Naval Academy and certain senators who are trying to nominate girls to the next Annapolis class.

The Academy says the girls won't be welcome. The senators say they are going to work on a bill which will make them welcome. I doubt if they get anywhere.

Annapolis has a point when it says the Academy was set up to train officers for the combat Navy, and existing federal law forbids putting women on combat missions.

A tempest in a teapot? More likely some fancy politicking by the honorable senators.

Bill to Devalue Dollar

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has sent Congress a long-awaited bill to devalue the dollar by 8.57 per cent, while claiming success in trade talks with Japan and the Common Market.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally sent the devaluation proposal to Capitol Hill Wednesday, in the form of a 270-word bill that would raise the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce. Administration officials predicted prompt approval.

The administration thus carried out a pledge made last December when the richest non-Communist nations agreed on a new set of currency-exchange rates built around a dollar devaluation.

Accompanying the measure was a disclosure that substantive agreements have been reached with the Common Market and Japan to remove some of their barriers against U.S. exports.

"Regrettably, no agreements have been reached with Canada," Connally said in a letter to Congress. "The United States will seek appropriate means of reducing imbalance in trade agreements with that country."

Just what the administration meant by "appropriate means" in dealing with Canada was left unanswered. "I think all avenues are open," said Paul A. Volcker, undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs.

William J. Eberle, President Nixon's special trade representative, said the administration is constantly in touch with the Canadians and could resume stalled talks at any time.

In Ottawa, Canadian Trade Minister Jean-Luc Pepin said Connally apparently felt the proposed trade settlement "was not juicy enough" for the United States.

Hearings on the gold-price bill will begin Feb. 29 before the House Banking Committee.

Food Price Rise to Aid Farmers

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers will see 1972 food prices rise much faster than last year, but farmers are due for a big financial lift, according to a new Agriculture Department diagnosis.

Groceries which showed a 2.4-per-cent price gain in supermarkets last year are expected to go up around 4 per cent in 1972, said a department report issued Wednesday. Overall, the department predicts that food prices including restaurant meals will go up 4.5 per cent this year.

Farmers, who had no gain in net incomes in 1971, will see

Administration officials, in profits soar by $1.5 billion to $2 billion this year, the department forecast.

Last year, as farm income staggered, retail food prices rose only 2.4 per cent. Overall, including restaurants, the 1971 gain was 3.0 per cent, according to USDA.

The predicted boost in farm income is much more than the billion-dollar gain previously forecast by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and other administration officials.

A $2 billion income gain would mean a record $17.7 billion net for farmers this year, topping the previous high of $17.1 billion in 1947.

Farm Income Is Revised Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has revised upward, perhaps by $2 billion, its estimate on farm income this year.

The projection was included Wednesday in a report on the demand and price outlook for farm products.

"Gains in gross income will more than offset advances in expenses, lifting farmers' realized net income about $1.5 billion to $2 billion above last year's $15.7 billion," the report said.

That would mean a possible top level of $17.7 billion, exceeding the old mark of $17.1 billion set in 1947.

Well-known administration officials, including Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, have predicted only a $1 billion gain in net farm income for 1972.

At the same time, the report said retail food prices are expected to rise "close to four per cent" this year. Overall retail food prices, including meals in restaurants, had been predicted to be up "around 4.5 per cent" from last year.

"Livestock prices look strong for most of the year, with considerably less pork production

Big Air Armada Warning to Hanoi

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The United States marshaled its biggest air armada in months today as a warning to North Vietnam and sharply stepped up its air strikes in South Vietnam to counter recent increases in Communist ground attacks.

The show of aerial strength was intended as a warning to North Vietnam of heavy retaliation in the event of the big Communist offensive predicted this month. Nearly 400 fighter-bombers and B52 heavy bombers were in Vietnam, Thailand and off the coast of North Vietnam, and about 40 more B52s were ordered from the United States to the western Pacific.

The U.S. Command reported that Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers flew 84 combat strikes in South Vietnam, more than eight times the daily average inside the country for the past four months during which the American fliers have been concentrating on the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

The South Vietnamese air force flew another 85 strikes. Eighty of the American strikes were in the central highlands provinces of Pleiku and Kontum, where the enemy offensive is expected, and the adjacent coastal province of Binh Dinh, scene of a sharp stepup in small-scale enemy ground attacks this week.

The South Vietnamese command reported 41 more such attacks in the past 24 hours, most of them in Binh Dinh or around Da Nang, to the north. The command said 204 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and at least 60 South Vietnamese were killed and 161 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Nearly a score of U.S. B52s retaliated for a rocket attack Wednesday on Da Nang and its air base with the heaviest air action in the region in several years.

The carriers in the Tonkin Gulf also sent scores of warplanes to attack supply routes in Laos.

The carrier Constellation arrived back in the gulf at dawn, its port leave in Hong Kong cut short, and its planes joined those of the Coral Sea and the Hancock in the air operations. It is the first time three carriers have been operating off the Vietnamese coast at one time since November 1970.

Reports from San Diego indicated a fourth carrier, the Kitty Hawk, might be on her way to Vietnam, soon with another 75 planes.

$20 Billion Debt Ceiling Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $20-billion raise in the national debt ceiling, enough to cover Treasury borrowing until June, has been approved by the House but now waits its turn to be considered by the Senate Finance Committee.

The timing could give the Treasury a mild case of nerves, but the Senate is expected to act before the mounting debt goes through the present $430-billion ceiling, an event forecast for early March.

The House voted, 248 to 147, Wednesday for the bill, cut from President Nixon's request for a $50-billion borrowing authority increase. The requested raise would have taken care of Treasury needs until February 1973.

The Democratic-controlled Ways and Means Committee instead approved the interim increase, which will automatically bring the administration back before Congress for a fiscal discussion before the presidential campaign.

The Senate Finance Committee, to which the House-passed bill was referred, is committed to winding up its work on President Nixon's long-pending welfare reform bill this month.

Board to Require Wage Clearance

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board will require advance clearance of deferred pay raises that exceed 7 per cent a year in units of 1,000 or more employees.

The new move increases the likelihood that some or all such raises will be rejected, but doesn't constitute an automatic veto.

The ruling was adopted by a 9-5 vote Wednesday over objection of labor members. Chairman George H. Boldt abstained. It applies to old contracts or pay practices that were in effect before last Nov. 14, when the wage freeze ended.

Scheduled future increases in those contracts still will be paid unless specifically rejected by the Pay Board. The board may do this by declaring them unreasonable inconsistent with its general 5.5-per-cent limit on yearly pay raises in new contracts.

The expanded reporting procedure means the board will see more information about more contracts, and will have longer to look it over.

Some business members of the board earlier had urged automatic rejection of any deferred increases exceeding 7 per cent, but the board stopped short of adopting that.

Instead, it said it will require

60 days' advance notice of any pay raise exceeding 7 per cent a year in a pre-Nov. 14 contract for pay units of more than 1,000 employees.

Millwood Levee Work

The Tulsa District Corps of Engineers today invited bids for the repair of the levee which protects the Ideal Cement Company in the Millwood Lake area of Little River near Ashdown, Ark.

Bids will be opened March 9 and the cost of the work is expected to be between $100,000 - $500,000. The work is to be complete in 180 days.

Col. William E. Road, Tulsa District Engineer, said the repair work will be done on about 6,000 feet of the downstream slopes of the levee. Included in the work will be the placement of about 81,000 cubic yards of sand fill material and turling about 25 acres of eroded areas.

The levee, which was built as part of the Millwood Lake project, is 14,000 feet long and protects the cement plant when the lake is in flood control operation.

Millwood Lake attracted 2,773,500 visitors last year.

Bangladesh Recognition by U.S. May Be Developing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is weighing diplomatic recognition of Bangladesh as part of a broad review of U.S. policy toward the developing structure of South Asia.

What postures will India and Pakistan adopt toward the new state and vice versa? How will India and Pakistan relate to their neighbors and to Peking and Moscow? These are among questions to which U.S. officials say they still find no clear answers.

Tied into this review, too, is the extent to which the United States should revive its massive economic-development aid to the subcontinent—assistance suspended since last year's Indian-Pakistani conflict.

President Nixon does not intend to announce a decision until after his China trip.

So far some 30 countries have moved to set up formal diplomatic ties with the former east wing of Pakistan which broke away in December's two-week war. Among them are Britain and the Soviet Union, but not mainland China.

A prime item in Nixon's view is whether India will abandon its past neutral stance and adopt a militant posture in South Asia, perhaps hooked in with Moscow.

The President said in his State of the World report Wednesday that the United States has "a continuing interest in India's independence and nonalignment" and also in its policy "toward its neighbors on the subcontinent." Similarly, the United States would prefer that Bangladesh, a country of 70 million, not be tied into a possibly hostile power bloc.

Current reports give U.S. officials some assurance on this score. They indicate Bangladesh's Sheikh Mujibur Rahman is displaying some independence from New Delhi, and that he pressed for the Indian agreement to pull out troops.

These officials say the decision on recognizing Bangladesh is a technical item which will fall into place easily once Nixon charts the larger U.S. policy course.

The scale of U.S. aid to the subcontinent, however, is unlikely to reach earlier heights, should Nixon signal a go-ahead.

Who appoints the County Equalization Board, how much are they paid and by whom? How long are their terms for and is there a limit on the number of terms they can serve?

These were a few of the questions asked by the Public Relations and Communications Sub-committee meeting last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Worthy.

Attending the meeting were Chairman Donal Parker, Mrs. Troy Bass, Mrs. Myrtle Primus, Mrs. Peggy Worthy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rowland, Mrs. Nancy Morrison, Mrs. Donal Parker, Tom Buchholzer and Mr. and Mrs. Worthy.

Mrs. Bass was elected Secretary and Buchholzer Vice-Chairman of the Committee. Rowland is a member of the Hope School Board.

In discussing information secured from the state department of education, the committee learned that Hope School District 1-A is ranked 23th of the state's 30 largest schools in local ADA effort. This effort is $187 per pupil per year while the state average is $271. Also in financial support at the local level, Hope ranks 104th out of 129 school districts in the state. Hope's school tax rate is 40 mills and the state average is 46.09; Hope's average teacher salary is $6320, Hempstead County's average is $6336 and the state average on teacher's salaries is $6896.

More information from the North Central Association revealed that Hope School District ranks in the lowest 20 percent of the state's schools and in every area that produces school funds at the local level; Hempstead County ranks 13th in the state in average per capita income and it ranked Number One in per capita income increase during the past ten years.

The Sub-committee also discussed the needs of Hope School District 1-A from information presented by the local board.

In the Elementary schools, Paisley needs four new classrooms, new cafeteria and equipment, renovate the old building and four additional teachers;

At Beryl Henry, five new classrooms and equipment and four additional teachers;

Special elementary personnel such as music teacher for all elementary schools, counselor and librarian for all elementary schools;

At Hope Junior High, two additional teachers and a home economics teacher;

At the High School, renovation of facilities, an English teacher, repairs to school toilets, replacement of some floor covering and of course, one of the major problems is the replacement of a boiler and parts of heating system at a cost of $25,000. This system has been in use since the High School was built in 1933. Also, a larger shop building and library facility are critically needed at the high school.

Approximately $30,000 additional funds are needed annually for school operations; renovation, repair and new construction is estimated to cost $350,000 and the cost of additional personnel will be according to the number employed. An estimate would indicate that the cost will be approximately $86,000.

A check with the County Clerk's office revealed that persons must register at least 20 days before the school election of March 14 if they wish to vote in that election. Cut-off date is February 23.

More persons are needed to work on all of the Sub-committees of the Citizens Committee For Better Quality Schools in Hope School District 1-A.

Concerned parents are urged to volunteer for one of these Sub-committees and offer your time and services. Contact Matt McCauley, general chairman or Mitchell LaGrone, George Frazier, Herman Wilson, Bill Gunter or Donal Parker.

Election Compromise

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers, Democratic party officials and legislators agreed Wednesday on a compromise on Bumpers' election bill and action to implement it was expected today.

The compromise measure, to be shaped by amendments to the existing bill, would:

—Set the primary election on May 30 with the runoff on June 13.

—Establish a filing period from March 14 through April 4.

—Direct the parties to pick their own method of naming state delegates to the national party conventions.

The change in the primary dates would place the elections at a time earlier than any primaries have been held in recent years in Arkansas.

Existing law provides that the primary will be June 27 with the runoff on July 11. It also sets a filing period from April 4 through April 18.

But the most troublesome aspect of existing law was the requirement, approved by the Democrat-controlled General Assembly last year, that 80 percent of a party's delegates to the national convention be chosen at a popular election.

Bumpers' bill, as introduced, would give parties the option of choosing the method they would follow in selecting national convention delegates.

His bill, before the compromise, would establish a filing period from March 28 through April 18 and would set the election on June 13 with the runoff on June 27.

Delegates to the Democratic National Convention must be certified by June 20. That put Arkansas Democrats in a dilemma, since existing law requires an election of delegates at the time of the primary and the primary was not scheduled until after June 20.

Roger C. Mears Jr. of Little Rock, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee, told the Senate Elections Committee Wednesday there was a move to enact the administration bill. That, he said, would give Democrats only the election method of naming delegates since the election dates were not advanced, in his opinion, enough to avoid the June 20 certification obstacle.

The Democratic State Committee has gone on record as favoring a convention method of selecting delegates.

Bumpers earlier rejected a proposal Mears had drafted to set the elections on May 23 and June 6.

needs to be done to rebuild the image of politicians", he said.

There is a tremendous number of legislative items now pending before the Congress. The mood of Congress will be governed by the fact that 1972 is a Presidential Election Year.

"In my opinion", said the Congressman, "the main issues confronting the Congress at the present time are No. 1, The Economy. Our people are concerned about jobs, unemployment, the cost of living, and spiraling cost in and out of government."

No. 2 Vietnam. How do we get out? In 1966 we were told that everything was going well and we believed it. It just took all of us too long to realize what was really happening in Vietnam. Vietnam was a mistake.

No. 3 The Welfare System. As long as idleness is rewarded, we will have a welfare problem.

No. 4 Our Tax System. It is inconceivable that a group of millionaires pay no income taxes with the burden being placed upon the person with an average or low income.

No. 5 The 18 to 21 Year Old Voter. In the United States there are 23,000,000 in this age group. There are 104,000 in Arkansas. The great majority of this group is smart, educated, basically sound, and will participate wisely in decisions affecting all areas of life."

At the close of Mr. Pryor's address he opened the meeting for questions. The first question was, "How do you feel about the Value Added Tax?" The answer, I feel that it is perhaps a trial balloon, and at the present time the reaction is overwhelmingly negative.

The second question asked by a reporter brought the question and answer period to a halt. Q. You have expressed some very definite views concerning some of the problems confronting the nation. Do you feel you could best cope with them in the Senate rather than in the House? After a statement and an amusing story about some of his earliest relationships with the press, and after what seemed to be an attempt to avoid the issue the answer was a simple "Yes".

Two Killed in Vietnam Action

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were killed in action last week and 31 were wounded, the U.S. Command announced today. The Command also reported seven deaths from nonhostile causes.

The total of combat dead was three less than the week before, and South Vietnamese headquarters also reported a drop in this category last week. It said 205 government soldiers were killed in action, compared to 292 the previous week. The number of wounded increased, from 661 the week before to 718.

The South Vietnamese also claimed 1,305 enemy were killed last week compared to 929 the previous week.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,646 killed in action, 302,602 wounded, 10,065 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—139,299 killed in action, 302,199 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—794,721 killed.

Charges U.S. Plans Military Adventures

By DAVID MASON

Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Communist delegates to the Vietnam peace talks charged today that President Nixon is "planning new military adventures" in Vietnam by beefing up U.S. air forces there.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong officials, entering the 144th session of the talks, jumped on word from Saigon and Washington that three U.S. aircraft carriers, are on station in the Gulf of Tonkin instead of two and that the number of B52 bombers available for raids in Indochina is being nearly doubled.

"This shows that while Nixon talks of peace, he is preparing new military adventures," said Nguyen Minh Vy of North Vietnam. Hanoi's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, was reported indisposed.

Vy's charge was echoed by the Viet Cong delegate, Nguyen Van Tien.

The U.S. delegate, William J. Porter, said Xuan Thuy had made "nauseating" statements concerning American prisoners of war in a CBS television interview last weekend.

Thuy said his government would not allow a neutral commission to visit the prison camps to determine the condition of the prisoners because it fears the commission would provide the United States information that could be used in new commando raids to free the prisoners.

Porter said this was "deceitful." He said Thuy "knows perfectly well" the prisoners could be taken from their camps to Hanoi and the neutral group could observe their physical condition there without even learning the location of the camps.

Porter also suggested that the North Vietnamese take closeup pictures of the prisoners, showing their physical condition, and send the pictures to their families.

The American ambassador also told the Communists that he will not agree on the date for the next meeting—normally next Thursday—until he can "assess the atmosphere" resulting from the antiwar meeting to be held in Versailles this weekend.

Task Force in Marianna

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Another meeting was scheduled today at Marianna between black and white leaders of the community and a six-member task force appointed by Gov. Dale Bumpers to mediate racial problems in the East Arkansas town.

The task force and community leaders met most of the day Wednesday but results of the conference were not revealed. Reporters were barred from the meeting.

A spokesman said the secrecy probably would continue until some sort of agreement was reached on the racial problems in the town.

The task force is to investigate, among other things, a protest of rules and conditions by black students at Lee High School.

The task force of three blacks and three whites was meeting Oly Neal Jr., administrator of the Lee County Cooperative Clinic; Mamie Nelson, president of the Lee County Chamber of Commerce; the Rev. Spencer Brown, pastor of St. John and New Hope churches; the Rev. I. V. McKenzie, pastor of the New Bethel Church; Lon Mann, president of the Lee County School Board; H. C. Dial, superintendent of Little County schools; Jessie Daggett, an attorney, and John Oxner, mayor.

Freak Accident Proves Fatal

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) —

The State Police said Philbor M. Rogers, 44, of Pine Bluff was killed Wednesday night in a freak accident on Arkansas 15, six miles south of here.

Police said the accident occurred after a car driven by Michael Rogers, 18, of near Pine Bluff ran out of gas.

The victim was pulled along side Rogers' car in a pickup truck and both were putting gasoline into the tank of the car, when another car rammed into the rear of the pickup truck. The truck then struck the parked car and hit the victim throwing gasoline on him. The gasoline then ignited.

Police said the pickup truck had its emergency lights flashing when it was hit by the car driven by Delois J. Marks of near Pine Bluff.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The 1970 Census revealed that the number of one-person households in the United States was 11.1 million, some 4.1 million or 57 per cent more than in 1960. Two-person households rose to 18.8 million in 1970, an increase of 3.9 million or 26 per cent over the decade. The World Almanac notes, however, that increases for larger households were relatively slight.

Peggy Praytor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Praytor, has been chosen as the 1972 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow from Hope High School. She was one of the many students who took the Homemaker Search test in December. Results of this test decided the award winner.

Presbyterians to Hear Missionary

The Reverend Charles T. McKee will be the featured speaker at the midweek meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church on February 16, 1972.

There will be a family night supper at 6:30 o'clock, with the program to follow. This is a part of the Witness Season program. Mr. McKee has worked as a Presbyterian missionary at Leubo, Congo in Africa for a number of years. At Leubo, where the Lulua River ceases to be navigable, Mr. McKee teaches in a school at junior high level, to train evangelist-pastors for the villages. The students are in their twenties, but many of their wives are still teenagers. Keeping a balance between real and ideal, rebels and revolutionaries, conserving old values and developing new ideas are among the challenges which Mr. McKee constantly faces.

Meeting with government officials and business men has convinced Mr. McKee that ministerial training supplies leaders for the nation as well as for the church. "Many of these men are products of the old mission schools, and it is gratifying to see them shouldering the responsibility for their country," he says.

Much to Be Done at 61

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There's much to be done at 61.

But with my 61st birthday looming on the horizon, I feel pretty much inclined to relax and let the other fellow do it. If a man hasn't been able to reform the world in 60 years, it is only wisdom to pass the problem on to other hands.

Frankly, right now I'd rather float along with the world than fight it. I feel like the guy who rode over Niagara Falls in a big rubber ball. He didn't change them—but he did survive them. That's my goal, too.

Being 61 doesn't call for much celebrating. It's pretty much of a blah birthday, just another niche and foothold in a long climb up the mountain. There aren't many notable days in a man's life really. They are the day he is born, the day he first goes to kindergarten, the day he first puts on long pants, the day he gets his first real job, the day he marries, the day his first child is born, any day he pays off a mortgage, the day he retires and the day he dies.

Oh, yes, and the day his father tells him about sex. This day didn't take long in my case.

"Son, your mother thinks it's time I told you about sex," my father said unexpectedly. "What do you know about it?" "Well, I know a little boy isn't supposed to get a little girl in trouble," I said. My father thought that over for a moment. "Well," he conceded, "I guess that's about all you need to know. But if you do get one in trouble, come and tell your Dad about it first."

As it turned out, I never had to bend Dad's ear.

No great illumination dawned on a man at 61. He can see little or perhaps no farther into the human forest. It is a betwixt and between age. It is a time when a man remembers passion but now feels he'd rather be in the throes of serenity.

He retains his sense of humor, but now every new joke he hears is an echo of an old one heard before.

It takes him 15 minutes longer to get up in the morning and go through the motions of readying himself to face another day.

There are at least three kinds of food he enjoyed at 40 that he now avoids because they make him burp.

He has almost lost his fear of losing his job. They wouldn't turn a guy out at 61, would they? Or would they?

His terrors about his errors lessen too. At 61 he has too much caution—and too little energy—to make any major new mistakes.

Above all, he is glad that if the world goes to hell from now on they can't blame him. He isn't in the driver's seat. He is only going along for the ride—and happy to be healthy enough to enjoy the view.

Opening lead—♠ K

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The average South player would win the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs and draw trumps with three leads. Then he would lead a low heart from dummy and let East hold the trick with the nine.

An alert East would place the jack of diamonds on the table and the defense would add three diamond tricks to the heart trick already in and score 100 points.

South would probably complain about the fact that East could produce a high heart on the first lead of the suit and congratulate East on his fine play of the diamond jack. A low diamond lead would have done East no good since South would

Doing Something About Weather

CUT BANK, Mont. (AP) — The citizens of Cut Bank, customarily one of the nation's coldest spots, are trying to do something about the weather.

A petition started by Marvin Owens, a local sporting goods dealer, and signed by 128 residents is to be given to Gov. Forrest H. Anderson.

It reads: "We ... do hereby petition the honorable governor of the State of Montana to declare the extra day of Leap Year to fall on the 32nd day of July ... the day of the year of Cut Bank could enjoy one more warm day in July rather than a cold one in February."

AND NOW it's Barbara Jo Brimmer of Hyde Park, N.Y., who wants to break new ground for women in a previously man's world—as a midshipwoman at Annapolis. Nominated as a naval academy candidate by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., she's the second coed candidate for the Naval Academy, following Valerie Shoen of the University of Michigan.

hold back his king and West would be forced to take the trick.

Someone might point out that there were nine tricks in top cards at no-trump. How many of you readers have seen that four spades could and really should have been made?

South should let West hold the first trick. The best continuation is another club. South wins in dummy and discards a low heart. Then he plays two rounds of trumps followed by three rounds of hearts and is able to ruff the third lead.

Back to dummy with the last trump and a diamond is discarded on the 13th heart. East never got the lead!

Helen and Sue Bottel The Generation Gap

Wants Baby for Wrong Reasons
Dear Helen and Sue
I hate men. All my life they've used me and thrown me away. I'll never marry. Maybe I'm queer. I don't know. Right now that isn't my problem.

I want a baby. I want someone who will love me and need me and never leave me so I won't be lonely any more. So I go with men, hoping I'll get a baby. So far, they can't even help me here. I know it couldn't be me! As soon as I get pregnant, there will be no more men in my life. If I could adopt a baby, that would be right now, but who would take a chance on me, with my reputation?

Is it so awful to want a baby this bad? I'm 19 and ready for motherhood. I could even get a job if welfare isn't enough.—DETERMINED MAN-HATER
Dear DMH:

You're 19 and ready for intensive therapy!

I'd feel very sorry for any child who is wanted mainly as a "possession"—someone who will fill the void left by the mother's inability to love.

You say men have used you—but you're just as guilty when you "use" them as potential baby-makers while hating all things male.

The Mental Health Clinic in your city may be able to help you. And the cost is geared to your ability to pay.—HELEN
Dear Man-Hater:

You've got to be kidding! (But Mom's columnist-radar says your letter isn't a hoax.)

What you need is a doll, not a real live baby. You also need a psychiatrist to unscrew your head. A girl who wants a baby (that she probably can't even support) simply because he'll "never leave her and she won't be lonely any more" might raise him—or her—as twisted as she is.—SUE
Dear Rap:

What do you do when you want your boy friend to go caroling with you at Christmas time, but he's Jewish?—PREPARING FOR NEXT SEASON
Dear PFNS:

Maybe he could play the Jew's harp.—SUE
NOTE FROM HELEN: TO SUE—Wash your mouth out with soap, kid!—H

NOTE FROM SUE: TO HELEN—
The devil didn't make me say it, Mom—I got that answer from a Jewish friend of mine.—S.
Dear Bottels:

We're twins, and people have a hard enough time telling us apart without our dressing alike. But Mom thinks it's cute to buy us the same clothes.

If that isn't the worst, get this—she also likes mother-daughter outfits, and she's in the sewing room right now, making us three dresses that are exactly alike.

We've been raised to "honor our father and mother," but isn't this too much?—THE TWINS IN THEIR TEENS
Dear Twins:

It certainly is! Maybe the same clothes, different colors, were okay when you were very young, but everybody should be individual—especially teens. And especially twins!

As for mother-daughter outfits: they're like fire and water—one "puts out" the other, and usually the daughter is the one most "put out."

It's time you had a real mother-daughters talk, twins!—SUE

Dear Twins:

It's tough enough being a twin without the added burden of being an exact duplicate.

A threesome of look-alikes? Mother, how COULD you??? "Cutesy" doesn't go these days!—HELEN

Home Town Watched Skating Star

By JUDY VAN SLYKE
Associated Press Writer
NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — The Village of Northbrook is saving the party for when its Olympic gold medalists return home, but there wasn't a TV in town Thursday night that wasn't tuned to Anne Henning.

Anne, a 16-year-old sturdy blonde speed skater from Northbrook who got her start on the village's Meadow Hill Park rink, captured a gold medal Wednesday—the second gold for the United States and the second for Northbrook—in the women's 500-meter speedskating event.

At the Henning home, Anne's sister Sally, 14, and brother, Tom, 12, had heard the news of Anne's win shortly after she crossed the finish line in Sapporo, Japan.

"Oh, she really must be happy," squealed Sally. "She has worked really hard for this and I'm really proud of her."

"I can just see my mother. She goes nuts when Anne wins a race," she said.

There were squeals of excitement at the Meadow Hill rink, too, as the Northbrook Skating Club, of which Anne is a member, heard the news.

Asked how the club felt about two of its members winning gold medals in the Olympics, George Martin, a club spokesman, said, "Make that three. Anne's going to win again Thursday in the 1,000-meter women's speedskating event."

Northbrook's other gold medalist so far in the 11th Winter Olympics is Diane Holum, who won the women's 1,500-meter event Wednesday.

Later in the evening, when films of the 500-meter race were shown on television, neighbors dropped by the Henning home to say they had seen Anne on television. The phone didn't stop ringing.

Sally and Tom Henning huddled in front of the television as Anne made her first swing around the rink in an Olympic record-breaking time of 43.73 seconds. But judges ruled she was fouled and gave her a second skate around—where she bettered her first run with a time of 43.33.

Anne's grandmother, Mrs. William C. Henning of Washington Island, Wis., who is staying with the Henning children while their parents are in Japan with Anne, couldn't resist bragging a little as the gold medal was hung around her granddaughter's neck.

"She is just so dedicated," she said. "She runs every day and bicycles 20 miles a day in the summer and skates as much as six hours a day when she's in training."

Palmer was in a group of 12 at 69, including George Knudsen of Toronto, Canada, the top scorer of the day at La Quinta, 6,911 yards and generally regarded as the toughest of the four layouts.

er Miss Holum, another Northbrook skating star, won the Games' first gold for the United States in the 1,500 meters.

In Thursday's other medal competition, Norwegian farmer Paal Tyldum won the tough 50-kilometer (31-mile) cross-country ski race in 2:43:14.75 and Gustavo Thoeni of Italy captured the men's giant slalom with a two-run time of 3:9.62.

In Thursday night's huge doubles finals, Italy's team of Paul Hildgartner and Walter Plaikner and the East German duo of Horst Hornlein and Reinhard Bredow finished in a flat-footed tie for the gold with identical two-run times of 1:28.35.

And in Class A hockey, the defending champion Soviet Union pounded Poland 9-3 to take sole possession of first place before runner-up Sweden took on third-place Czechoslovakia and the United States, hoping to keep alive its hopes for a bronze, faced Finland.

Miss Henning's coach, Ed Rudolph, from—you guessed it, that same Chicago suburb—said the instant of the foul might have wrecked the winning chances of many competitors.

"How many girls of her age would have survived a moment like that? She came through it with the poise of a veteran. She's a marvel!" he said.

Anne, on the outside lane coming to the cross-over had precedence. "We were pretty even... maybe Sylvia was

Louisianans Beat AM&N

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Jim Jenkins and Andy Knowles combined for 69 points to pace Louisiana Tech to a 107-89 basketball victory over Arkansas AM&N Wednesday night.

The game counted in Southland Conference play for the Bulldogs, who are 6-1, but did not count for ASU.

Jenkins hit 17 of 22 shots from his guard slot for 39 points, while his running mate out front collected 30.

John Belcher led the Indians with 33 points and 17 rebounds while guard Calvin Breedlove scored 26.

Louisiana Tech hit 58 per cent of its shots from the field while Arkansas State connected only on 38 per cent.

The loss left the Indians with a 9-11 season.

Colonels Have Potential

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"I'll be the first to admit we have good potential," said Kentucky Colonels Coach Joe Mullaney prior to the start of the season.

"But there are a number of question marks, too," he added. "For example, can Dan Issel make a smooth transition from center to forward? Will Artis Gilmore be a superstar from the outset?"

Mullaney may have been worried about his forward line before the season started, but it's the rest of the American Basketball Association which is doing the worrying now.

Issel, Gilmore and forward Walt Simon combined for 92 points and 41 rebounds Wednesday night as the Colonels overpowered the Carolina Cougars 126-106.

The victory enabled Kentucky to stay 10 games ahead of Virginia Squires in the ABA Eastern Division race. The Squires defeated Denver 124-111, but couldn't close in on the Colonels.

In other ABA games, Indiana tripped the Floridians 128-111 and Utah overwhelmed Pittsburgh 154-131.

Kentucky outbounded Carolina 58-37, with the Colonels' starting front trio grabbing more rebounds than the entire Carolina team. Carolina managed to stay close until the fourth quarter, when Kentucky's muscle finally wore the Cougars down.

Issel, leading scorer in the ABA as a rookie last year, poured in a game-high 37 points and grabbed 16 rebounds. Gilmore, the 7-foot-2 rookie pivotman from Jacksonville whose acquisition prompted Mullaney to move Issel to forward, tallied 29 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. Simon, the third man of the front triumvirate, scored 29 points and hauled in nine rebounds.

For Carolina, rookie Jim McDaniels scored 26 points while Gene Little and George Carter added 23 apiece.

West Sparks Lakers to Victory

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the towering center of the Milwaukee Bucks, was just too much for the Cleveland Cavaliers Wednesday night.

Jabbar exploded for 53 points—tying a Cleveland Arena record he set last year—as the Bucks scored a hard-earned 126-121 National Basketball Association victory over the Cavaliers.

Jabbar's outburst was just one point shy of his season high and three short of his career high.

In other National Basketball Association games, Los Angeles ripped Atlanta 117-113, the New York Knicks downed Detroit 126-102 and Boston beat Buffalo 139-112.

Despite Jabbar's productive night, the Bucks did not pull away from Cleveland until John Block hit a three-point play with just 36 seconds to play.

The game was tied 65-65 at the half. The Bucks moved ahead by eight, the Cavs came back to tie at 84-all. The Bucks moved ahead by healthy margins twice and twice the Cavs came back to within four.

Finally Block, a 6-foot-10 forward, hit his three-pointer to put the game on ice.

A pair of lay-ups by Jerry West sparked the Lakers. The first came with 2:23 to play and tied the score, 111-111. The second came at the 1:11 mark and put Los Angeles ahead to stay, 115-113.

The Lakers had trailed by 11 points with just 6:40 left to play, but pulled back into the game with the help of six quick points by second-year forward Jim McMillian.

What had all become, with 31 points, McMillian had 24 and Gail Goodrich 22. Pete Maravich tallied 28 and Walt Bellamy 27 for Atlanta.

The Knicks outscored Detroit 40-18 in the third period, turning a 54-52 halftime squeaker into a 94-70 slaughter at the three-quarters mark. Walt Frazier scored 31 points and Jerry Lucas 26 for New York, Jimmy Walker had 24 for Detroit.

Seven players hit for double figures for the Celtics, who led by 12 points going into the final period, then outscored Buffalo 39-24. Jo Jo White was Boston's high man with 24 points while Bob Kaufman topped Buffalo with 23.

for Virginia as the Squires defeated Denver and kept pace with Kentucky.

Indiana outscored the Floridians 39-18 in the third quarter to post a come-from-behind victory. Six Pacers hit for double figures, with center Mel Daniels being high man with 29. Mack Calvin scored 25 and Warren Jabali 23 for the Floridians.

record to 17-2.

Second-ranked Marquette found an easy time beating Xavier of Ohio 89-59 behind the 22 points and 21 rebounds of Jim Chones.

"I think that should get us going. We're off to the races," exclaimed Coach Al McGuire of the 18-0 Warriors. His team suffered a letdown for five games before coming alive against DePaul last Saturday and Xavier.

"We're not trying to bury anyone, we just want to get out of the doldrums."

Another ranked team, Virginia, needed an accurate free throw from sophomore Steve Morris with four seconds remaining in overtime to defeat West Virginia 89-88. The sixth-ranked Cavaliers, 17-1, were tied 80-80 at the end of regulation when Mountaineer Wil Robinson hit a jump shot at the buzzer. Jim Hobgood led Virginia with 21 points while Robinson had 40 for West Virginia.

Maryland's late rally toppled 20th-ranked Duquesne 85-71. The Terps held the Dukes to just two field goals in the final 4 1/2 minutes with a zone defense.

Hope Kittycats Move Into Tournament Semifinals

By BILL MOORE

For a time it looked a little close, but using some hot shooting and a tough defense, the Hope Kittycats broke it open right before halftime and went on for a 63-53, win over Lewisville.

Now Hope will travel back to Gurdon tonight to battle Stephens in the semi-final round of the Junior Girls 7A District Tournament.

After everyone kicked the ball around for a few seconds after the tipoff, the Kittycats finally

Feels Soccer Draftees Good

NEW YORK (AP) — North American Soccer League Commissioner Phil Woosnam is confident that a great majority of the 35 college players drafted Wednesday have a good chance of winning spots on the eight league teams which will begin play in April.

"It certainly appears to me that the teams made some very thoughtful selections," Woosnam said. "I feel that many of the boys drafted will not only make the roster of the clubs which selected them but also will win starting spots."

One of those rated a strong shot at making the first team is Al Maca of Brockport State. Maca, a fullback is the son of Joe Maca who was a member of the U.S. World Cup team which upset England 1-0, in the World Cup competition in 1950.

Maca, who went to Miami, was thrilled over his selection.

"I certainly feel that soccer can make it in this country and I want to be part of the growth of this great game," said Al.

Other first round picks were forward John Carenza of Southern Illinois, who went to the St. Louis Stars; goalie Cal Kern of Buffalo State selected by the Toronto Metros; Harvard goalie Shep Messing picked by the Montreal Olympics; Harvard fullback Chris Wilcott, selected by the New York Cosmos; Brockport State fullback Gary Barone, chosen by the Rochester Lancers; Michigan State fullback Steve Twellman, tapped by the Atlanta Chiefs, and Kyle Rote Jr., a forward from Swaneau and the son of the former New York Giants football star, taken by the defending champion Dallas Tornados.

Cincinnati called Ruiz to the took possession and quickly started the scoreboard on its way as Pogo Griffin ripped in a jumpshot with just 16 seconds used on the clock.

A free throw and a timeout by Lewisville set the stage now as Griffin and Shirley Gail East rammed in a shot each from the outside and seconds later Susan Henley did the same as the Kittycats held an early 8-2 margin with 2:49 left in the period.

Even though Griffin hit a jumpshot and East hit two separate free throws, the Red Devils scored five points in the time remaining, but it didn't really matter for the time being as Hope held a 12-7 margin, moving into the second period.

With some people figuring the margin of difference to start widening, it didn't turn out that way as Lewisville grabbed the second period tipoff and immediately jammed the ball through the hoop.

Griffin and Henley then hit a field goal each, but the best margin the Kittycats could get was eight points and that sometimes dwindled with Lewisville's Karen McClendon and Bertha Briggs matching shots.

As the clock turned to the 2:56 mark, Griffin hit both ends of a two shot foul attempt and the Kittycat attack began to fly as Griffin and East hit two buckets each on set shots and driving layups.

On the last basket, with 17 seconds to go, it meant that Hope would take a commanding lead into the dressing room at half-time.

Getting a long warmup between halves, both teams were ready to play, and the scoring started almost as fast as the first half, as Briggs hit the first point for Lewisville on a free throw, before Griffin popped in five straight points to increase the lead to 18 points difference.

Trading shots back and forth for the next few minutes, the Kittycats soon held a 47-28, margin with 1:08 left in the third frame after Henley chipped in two successive buckets.

With Briggs getting Lewisville two more points, Griffin matched that on a stolen ball layup with only five seconds left in the third stanza as Hope took a commanding 49-30 into the last period of play.

Once again Hope grabbed the tipoff and in just nine seconds East pushed in a two pointer from underneath on a pass from Griffin, and from there on out the Kittycats had everything under control, with reserve Barbie Watson coming on to hit the last three points.

Griffin led Hope with 34 points, while East sank 18, Henley added eight, and Watson hit three.

Starting guards Melissa Reece, Bonnie Roy, and Janice York did a fine job of defensive ball handling while reserve players Sherry Arnold, Kim Daffern, Judy Clark, and Susan Willet also deserve credit for their play.

Baseball Vet Killed

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Funeral services are scheduled Friday for veteran infielder Chico Ruiz, who was killed when the car he was driving ran off Interstate 15 and smashed into a sign pole.

Ruiz, 33, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds and the California Angels, was scheduled to report to the Kansas City Royals Feb. 20. He had become a naturalized U.S. citizen a month ago.

A native of Santo Domingo, Cuba, where his given names were Hiraldo Salbon, Ruiz was alone in the car when he apparently lost control of it early Wednesday morning, the California Highway Patrol said. He is survived by his widow and two young daughters who lived with him in northern San Diego County.

Cincinnati called Ruiz to the major in 1964 after he led four minor leagues in stolen bases.

Goalie Has Heart Attack

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Goalie Bruce Gamble of the Philadelphia Flyers was in satisfactory condition in Merritt Hospital here today following an apparent heart attack.

Gamble, 33, flew here with the team from Vancouver Wednesday but was unable to go on the ice for the Flyers' 3-2 defeat Wednesday night by the California Golden Seals.

Late Wednesday night a hospital spokesman said Dr. Clift considered Gamble's condition satisfactory "and we're just watching him very closely for tonight."

Rosburg, Heard Lead 1st Round

By RON ROACH

Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Bob Rosburg thought of quitting pro golf early last year because his game had sunk so badly and young Jerry Heard said his problem was trying to get rich too quickly.

Rosburg, 1959 PGA champion from St. Louis, corrected the grips on his clubs and Heard, 24, of Visalia, Calif., feels he's strapped out of a slump and still on the pace that made him a first-time $100,000 winner on the tour last year.

They shot first-round 66s, six under par, for a one-stroke lead Wednesday in the $145,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic, a 90-hole tournament being played on four courses. At 67 were club pro Jimmy Powell of Yorba Linda, Calif., and Chuck Courtney, 31, of La Jolla, Calif., who like Rosburg played the Indians Wells Country Club's 6,500-yard course.

Heard played the 6,840-yard El Dorado course, where he had a 32-34, with his longest putt a 20-footer for a birdie on No. 10. He had no bogeys.

"I've had a dry spell," said Heard, who recently bought out his backers. "Now I'm on my own and I've been trying to rush it ... trying to make money too quickly."

The 45-year-old Rosburg, who had one bogey when he hit a bunker but sank seven birdie putts from up to 15 feet away, said, "I feel I'm playing better now than I have for 15 years."

"After San Diego last year, I was playing so bad that I was ready to quit. I came up here to see Claude Harmon and we talked about everything."

Harmon found Rosburg had pressure points on his grips in the wrong place. And Rosburg said, "It had been that way for 23 years."

Jack Nicklaus, shooting a 68 at 6,765-yard Bermuda Dunes, said it was "by and large a fairly solid round" without "too many chances" for improvement.

Nicklaus, who won here in 1963 and has passed it up the last three years, was tied with Chi Chi Rodriguez, Dave Stockton and Mike Higgins.

Defending Hope champion Arnold Palmer, playing in only his third tournament of the year, shot a 69 at Bermuda Dunes despite what he called an "unbelievable cold" which he said he caught last Friday when he shot a 76 in the rain and cold of Hawaii.

Palmer was in a group of 12 at 69, including George Knudsen of Toronto, Canada, the top scorer of the day at La Quinta, 6,911 yards and generally regarded as the toughest of the four layouts.

er Miss Holum, another Northbrook skating star, won the Games' first gold for the United States in the 1,500 meters.

In Thursday's other medal competition, Norwegian farmer Paal Tyldum won the tough 50-kilometer (31-mile) cross-country ski race in 2:43:14.75 and Gustavo Thoeni of Italy captured the men's giant slalom with a two-run time of 3:9.62.

In Thursday night's huge doubles finals, Italy's team of Paul Hildgartner and Walter Plaikner and the East German duo of Horst Hornlein and Reinhard Bredow finished in a flat-footed tie for the gold with identical two-run times of 1:28.35.

And in Class A hockey, the defending champion Soviet Union pounded Poland 9-3 to take sole possession of first place before runner-up Sweden took on third-place Czechoslovakia and the United States, hoping to keep alive its hopes for a bronze, faced Finland.

Miss Henning's coach, Ed Rudolph, from—you guessed it, that same Chicago suburb—said the instant of the foul might have wrecked the winning chances of many competitors.

"How many girls of her age would have survived a moment like that? She came through it with the poise of a veteran. She's a marvel!" he said.

16-Year-Old Gives U.S. Second Olympics Medal

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — "I was impressed by her attractiveness and her fine skill in skating. I would like to emulate her from now on," said Vera Krasnova.

"She is a great champion although she is still so young," added Ludmila Titova.

The object of the Russian girls' praise was Anne Henning, who broke the Olympic 500-meter speed skating title not once but twice Thursday, giving the United States its second 11th Winter Olympic Games' gold medal in two days, complements of Northbrook, Ill.

The 16-year-old whiz, who will be battling with teammate Dianne Holum for the gold in Friday's 1,000-meter race, whizzed around glittering Makomanai Stadium in 43.75 seconds, fast enough to win despite being fouled by Canada's Sylvia Burka.

And because of that foul—interference on Miss Burka's part as the two skaters switched lanes—Miss Henning was given a second run and another shot at her own world mark of 42.75.

She didn't make it this time either, although she did manage to shave almost half a second off her first time, finishing in 43.33. Miss Krasnova won the silver medal with a 44.0 clocking and Miss Titova took the bronze in 44.45.

Anne's triumph, which demolished the Olympic mark of 45 seconds, came just 24 hours after

Louisville Brings Out the Best

Louisville—college basketball's wonder ingredient. Just put the Cardinals on the court and the opposition automatically gets better.

"We seem to bring out the best in everybody," Denny Crum, Louisville coach, said Wednesday night after his team skinned by Wichita State 65-64. "All the teams get real emotional against us and really go all out. We just have to play better."

The fourth-ranked Cardinals trailed the high-flying Shockers until the final two minutes of the Missouri Valley Conference contest, when a foul and technical foul were called on Wichita State's Steve Shogren when he swung at a Louisville player after receiving an elbow in a rebound tussle. Louisville went ahead for good on a jump-shot by Jim Price following the in-bounds pass after the technical foul shot.

Price finished the game as Louisville's high scorer with 17 points while Terry Benton, Shockers' center, had the game-high 25 points.

Texas Adds to Stockpile

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — By almost any recruiting standard except one, the Texas Longhorns, defending Southwest Conference football champions, have scored decisively in reinforcing their stockpile of talent.

Four of the state's 14 so-called blue-chip players and 19 of the 91 players on Texas Football magazine's checklist signed with Texas Tuesday, the first day for signatures.

But Texas coaches are still having trouble recruiting black athletes.

"Don't ask me why, we're trying just as hard as we can. I don't understand it," said head coach Darrell Royal.

Royal stressed last October to the Longhorn Club, which includes some of the team's most avid fans, that "we've got our eye on some good (black) runners, and we're going after them hard as soon as the season is over."

Only one black recruit, however, has signed this year with Texas.

He is David Smith, a 6-2, 215-pound linebacker from Navarro Junior College.

Not by coincidence, Alvin Matthews' initial job as Texas' first black coach was to accompany assistant Jim Helms to sign Smith Tuesday morning.

Matthews also was with Royal and assistants Fred Akers and David McWilliams at Kirbyville Tuesday night to watch Earnest Bean, a black all-state halfback, play basketball.

Bean broke Steve Worster's schoolboy rushing records last year, and Worster, a former Bridge City star, was the heart of Texas' Wishbone-T offense for three years, making all-America his senior season in 1969.

All-America schoolboy halfbacks Ronnie Littleton of Wichita Falls and Joe Washington Jr. of Port Arthur Lincoln, both black, say they have not ruled out Texas. Neither has visited the campus, although they have been invited.

"The reluctant blacks to attend Texas carries over to the local level where the biggest disappointment was the last-minute decision of William Brooks of Austin Johnston, a black athlete, to go to SMU."

Brooks, 6-4 and 190, has started in football as a split end and in basketball for three years at Johnston. He called Assistant athletic director Bill Ellington at 11:30 p.m. Monday night to say he would sign the next day with the Ponies.

Johnston's other top college prospect, also a black, is 6-2 240-pound tackle Edgar Fields he is going to Texas A&M.

A third black, Doug Mitchell of Austin Reagan, is leaving home for TCU.

The five top white prospects in Austin, including blue-chip quarterback Larry Miller of Reagan, are going to Texas.

The other blue-chip recruits are quarterback Marty Atkins of Gregory-Portland, who scored 34 touchdowns rushing and 29 passing in three years and also scored 206 points place-kicking, linebacker Rick Fenlaw of Amarillo and center-tackle Ricky Burleson of Fort Worth Richland.

Linebacker Gary Brentlinger of Arlington and linemen Bill Ward of Arlington, Cesar Moreno of Brownsville and Billy Gordon of Port Arthur Jefferson are Longhorn recruits who all made the first-team Class AAAA selection.

Tight end Stan Bomar of Denton was a second-team choice.

Texas' other recruits include 200-pounder Mike Baker of Dallas Carter, who gained some 1,500 yards rushing as his team advanced to the AAA semi-finals; Reagan speedster Ed Attra; Port Arthur Jefferson quarterback Larry Mayer; and Bob Simmons, Temple's 250-pound lineman.

The Longhorns lost Tyler Junior College players Millard Neely and Bruce Neely to Baylor, and Port Neches lineman Rodney Bernard sent a telegram saying he was switching to Houston.

Four other players on one Texas master checklist chose other colleges the first day of recruiting: lineman Jim Kemp of Hobbs, N.M., and linebacker Marty Brecht of Conroe both opted for Oklahoma and fullback Alvin Bowers of Wharton and defensive back David Balas of Houston Bellaire decided on A&M.

Line City, ridden by Don Brumfield, paid $3.80, $2.60 and 2.60 as the even-money favorite. So More, second choice in the wagering and ridden by Phil Grimm, returned $2.80 and $2.40. Brute Force, with Eddie Burns aboard, paid $3 to show.

Wednesday's daily double was won by Beautiful Story with Sidney Lejune in the first and Roaring Thunder in the second. Nos. 3 and 1, to pay $84.40.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

No Good Way To Grow New Hair

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—How does a man go about growing hair on his body? Some of my friends and I are hairless, but not hopeless. We have heard that using special creams, cheeses and even eating certain herbs will produce a massive crop of hair. Our problem is that no one seems to know the complete procedure. We would like your advice. We are all in our 20s or 30s so we can't expect nature to do too much more on its own.

Dear Reader—I presume your main concern is hair on your head. The simple truth is there is no good way to grow hair on the head when you have your problem. There are a large number of men who have baldness very early in life. The claims for special creams, cheeses, foods and any number of other claims are not successful. About the only thing they will do is cost you money. I have yet to see a bona fide, successful way of growing hair on a bald head. My best advice to you would be not to be taken in by any charlatan putting out false advertisement with such claims.

There have been a few reports of producing a few scraggly hairs on the top of the head by application of cream containing testosterone, the male hormone. This has not been sufficiently successful to suggest it to anyone for practical application. In fact, most people feel that testosterone is a significant factor in inducing baldness. At least you might as well adopt this explanation and claim to have a high level of virility.

Transplants of hair follicles to the scalp have been done. This is a long, time-consuming project where hair follicles may be transplanted from the chest to the scalp. This assumes that one has hair on the chest to transplant.

Another approach has been to place underneath the scalp a synthetic or plastic type material with little attachments that stick through the skin which enables one to anchor a hair piece down solidly. Such a hair piece can be worn while swimming or engaging in any other activity and look like a normal head of hair. This procedure is very expensive and I suspect there are only a few places where you could have it done safely.

My best advice is to learn to enjoy it. Just think of all the problems you have escaped. If you are disturbed because of the present emphasis on hair, maybe you should think about starting a new style. Yul Brynner did it in a rather big and financially successful way.

I would like to add that if and when someone is successful in correcting baldness, it is going to be a very well-known achievement and you won't have to ask where to go to get it done. Men and some women have been searching for cures for baldness for generations.

Animal Relocation

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — Had a falling out with your Gila monster? Don't know how, or where, to get rid of it?

Maybe Francine Vandebroek has the answer.

Mrs. Vandebroek and her family operate the Animal Relocation Center, a facility aimed primarily at people-animal relationships which have not weathered well, particularly those involving exotic pets.

The Vandebroek family is prepared to offer counseling on the care of exotic pets and, as a last resort, find the animal a new home.

"Exotic animals are not like dogs and cats," explained Mrs. Vandebroek as she tried to coax a brush-tailed antelope out of its cage. "They don't try to please their masters. They do what they want."

In six months, the Vandebroeks have placed 30 to 35 animals, ranging from common Michigan raccoons and opossums to coatis, small tropical mammals.

Mrs. Vandebroek said the family became involved in animal placement when the ecological concerns of a college-student son and daughter-in-law spread to other family members.

"The idea is to start the conservation of exotic animals which we know are going to become extinct because of humans," said Mrs. Vandebroek. The difficulty of placing an exotic animal is compounded by the frequency of which their owners seek to dispose of them, said James Langhammen, curator of reptiles at the Detroit Zoo.

"It's almost a certainty that anyone who buys a monkey will be unhappy with it, usually within two years," Langhammen said.

"People just can't build a strong enough cage for a mature monkey, and often they just overwhelm people," added another zoo official, Floyd Lodge.

Neither the Michigan Humane Society nor the zoo have facilities for unwanted exotic pets.

"It's a tragedy," said Frank Andrews, executive director of the Humane Society, "but there's no demand for a slightly used lizard."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After

five years as the star of her own show and, before that, all those seasons on "The Garry Moore Show," Carol Burnett has become such a familiar light in the television firmament that neither she nor her CBS series receives the attention it deserves.

This season, in a new, early time slot, the weekly hour continues to be a bright variety spot—a pleasant and usually handsome jumble of music, comedy and family feeling.

Sometimes the comedy doesn't work well—Wednesday night's sketch in a stalled elevator was not exactly Emmy material—but Carol and her regulars work together as though they enjoyed the company and the program, and all work to make the guest stars look good. Eydie Gorme, for instance, had a great solo number with interesting photography and a most unusual musical effect.

Peter Falk not only solved a murder without a corpse in this week's NBC "Mystery Theater," but directed the program as well. It was a well organized murder yarn with an ingenious solution and an unusual background: a construction site. Falk's "Columbo" in the trio of murder stories racks up higher ratings by a couple of points than the programs starring Rock Hudson or Dennis Weaver.

As the season creeps toward the beginning of summer reruns next month, it becomes increasingly evident that the plan to return half an hour a night of prime time programming to local stations has not worked well from a number of angles, including the viewers'.

The idea, promulgated by the Federal Communications Commission in an effort to stimulate development of local programs, only has stimulated a raft of syndicated ones. Many are imitative and inept; others are canceled network series with a new life, and some more are old shows that died natural deaths and were revived for syndication.

"Variety," the show business weekly, reports that a study of shows seen in larger cities shows that the most successful are a few programs that moved off the networks into syndication—notably "The Lawrence Welk Show" and "Hee Haw."

Among the five-a-week shows that are modest hits are "Truth or Consequences," "To Tell the Truth" and "What's My Line?"—each is older than a lot of its viewers. They are doing so well, in fact, that next season "I've Got a Secret" will come off the shelf—with Art Linkletter in Garry Moore's old spot, and so will "The Price is Right."

Peace Alternatives Seen as Close to Surrender

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has left little doubt it views some proposed alternatives to its Vietnam policy as akin to surrender, even while backing away from strident language applied to some critics.

President Nixon outlined this policy Wednesday when, in discussing his State of the World message, he said there should be debate but his prospective presidential opponents should be careful they don't play into Hanoi's hands.

"I do not question the patriotism or the sincerity of those who disagree with my policy to bring peace," Nixon said. "There should always be free debate and criticism so that our policy will represent the best thinking of our nation."

This was a far cry from earlier statements by a top aide, H.R. Haldeman, that Democratic presidential hopefuls were "consciously aiding and abetting the enemy of the United States" by their attacks on Nixon's peace plans.

Yet, the President indicated that while his wording might be softer, he doesn't think those same candidate are fully aware

3 Print Jobs Said Illegal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three firms that were awarded state printing contracts last December by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant had no rights to the jobs, Circuit Court Judge Warren E. Wood said Wednesday.

Wood said this was because International Graphics Inc., of Little Rock had the lowest reasonable bid on the contracts, one which was "enforceable" by the state.

Wood made the statements in regard to a formal judgment entered in the case last week.

Wood said he was hopeful that Bryant might "accept a judicial determination" in reference to Wood's issuing a finding of law in the case in January.

Wood, in the January finding of law, ruled that Bryant was within his legal discretion as secretary of state in refusing to award the printing contracts to International Graphics even though Wood's personal opinion was that Bryant was wrong in his exercise of jurisdiction.

International Graphics filed suit against Bryant in December challenging his action in awarding three contracts to firms submitting higher bids and in rejecting the only bid—made by International Graphics—on a fourth contract.

Bryant said on Dec. 10 he was rejecting the four bids of International Graphics on a technicality.

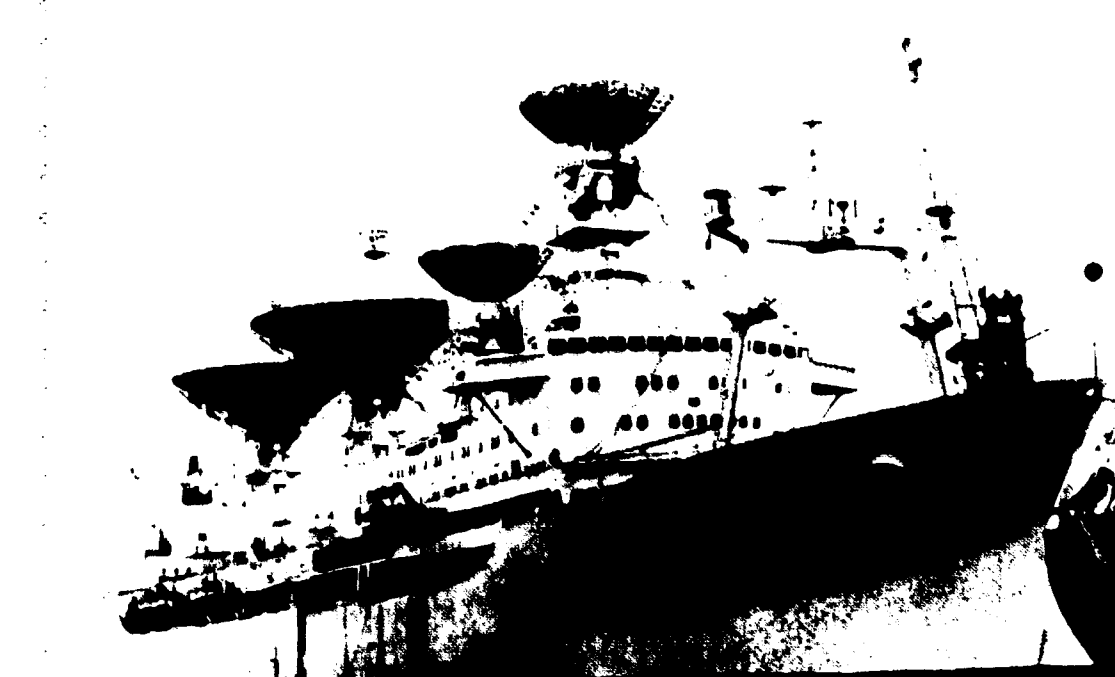

Wood ruled in the suit that he did not have jurisdiction.

Muskie Cribbage Tournament

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — The "Edmund S. Muskie Invitational Cribbage Tournament" will start here next week with championship play-offs Feb. 19-29.

Sen. Muskie will take time out from his presidential campaign to play the winner of the citywide competition.

The world's first automobile club was formed in Paris in 1895, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

LARGEST SCIENCE SHIP in the world is the Soviet claim for this 45,000-ton, antenna-festooned vessel named for the late Cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin, photographed at the Black Sea port of Odessa.

Snow Slated for North Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Snow is in the forecast for portions of Northern Arkansas, but the National Weather Service says the front which is moving into Arkansas is weak and there will not be much accumulation.

In other portions of the state the prediction is for rain beginning this evening and continuing into Friday.

Temperatures will also be somewhat colder than they have been in the past few days. The lows tonight will drop to the mid 20s and 30s. The highs Friday will be in the 30s and 40s.

The extended forecast is for cloudy skies this weekend, with perhaps some rainfall Sunday.

The highs Wednesday ranged from 30 at Memphis to 60 at El Dorado.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 39; Harrison, 27; Jonesboro, 30; Pine Bluff, 33; El Dorado, 31; Memphis, 30; Little Rock, 29 and Fort Smith, 34.

No precipitation was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6 o'clock this morning.

Backlash Feared in Construction

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Construction labor leaders co-operating reluctantly with President Nixon to control wages are worried about backlash from the rank and file. They want White House assurance they won't be left holding the bag.

The AFL-CIO union presidents who sit on Nixon's Construction-Industry Stabilization Committee fear the possibility that local union leaders might succeed in upsetting committee wage rulings, sources said Wednesday.

"It's fine for us to sit on that committee and help moderate wage increases," said one union source. "But what happens if some local business agent goes to court to upset the committee's wage decisions and wins?"

The national union chiefs fear if that happened, their members would condemn them for having cooperated in the first place and seek to vote them out of office.

"We're sitting ducks," the source said. "What we want is some kind of assurance, whether a presidential executive order, legislation or something else," to tighten the legal authority of the stabilization committee, he said.

"The legislative authority is very garbled," said Iron Workers' President John Lyons, a labor member of the committee, which also includes public and business representatives.

Leaders of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department are meeting here in advance of AFL-CIO Executive Council sessions next week.

The construction union presidents have been going along with the federal wage control program for two reasons, sources said.

The original reason was that local union pressures for large wage hikes had forced hundreds of millions of dollars worth of union work to non-union contractors. Another reason has been that construction unions have been winning approval of pay hikes through the stabilization committee that are far in excess of Pay Board guidelines.

Would Divide Racing Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs introduced bills Wednesday to establish separate commissions to regulate horse racing and greyhound racing in Arkansas.

The bills would abolish the five-member Arkansas Racing Commission, which regulates both types of racing now, and replace it with two five-member bodies, one for each type of racing.

Hurst had said earlier that he believed separate commissions were needed because of the growth of each type of racing in Arkansas and the differences between them.

Dogs are raced at West Memphis under a franchise held by Southland Greyhound Corp. Thoroughbreds are raced at Oaklawn Park in Hurst's home town.

Each separate commission would be composed of persons appointed by the governor with at least one from each congressional district on each commission.

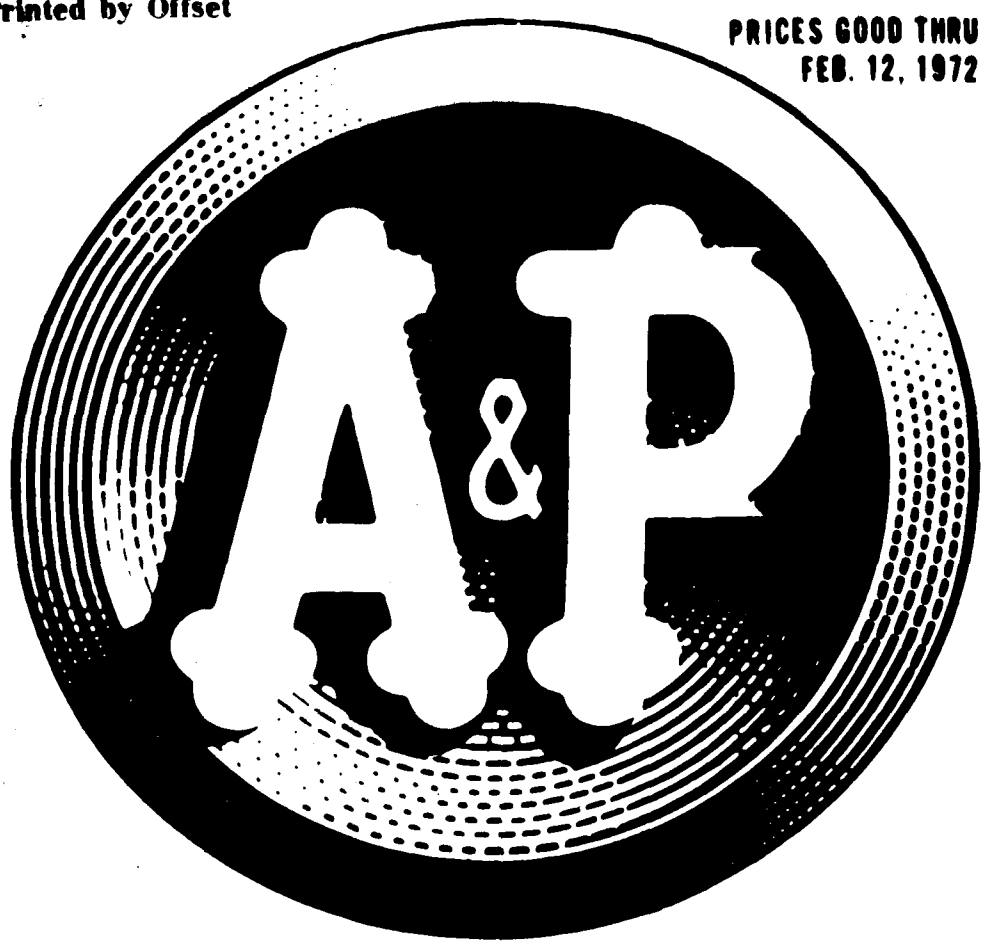

Nothing in Gov. Dale Bumpers' call for the current special legislative session pertained to racing. Items not germane to the call may not be considered until after all of the governor's business has been dealt with, and then only if two-thirds of the members in each legislative chamber vote to extend the session.

Officer Guilty of Perjury

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Tommy Glover of the North Little Rock Police Department was found guilty of perjury late Wednesday in U.S. District Court. The charge stemmed from a Grand Jury investigation into alleged illegal gambling in North Little Rock.

Judge J. Smith Henley postponed sentencing pending completion of a presentence report. Glover could receive a fine of up to $2,000 and a prison sentence of up to five years or both.

The jury deliberated only 37 minutes before returning the verdict Wednesday evening.

Prime Lending Rate at Low Level

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Improvement in the nation's business may be about to pull the prime lending rate out of a two-year decline which has brought it to its lowest levels since 1965, according to bankers.

"Our guess is that we're pretty close to the bottom," says Edward L. Palmer, executive committee chairman of New York's First National City Bank, second biggest in the country.

"I'd argue that we're probably at the bottom now, although some banks may dip lower for a while," says economist Julian Taylor San Francisco's Bank of America, the biggest commercial bank in the world.

Palmer, whose bank may have the most sensitive of all the prime rates, says the turn upward could come by the end of next month. Taylor says it could come a bit later, possibly in the second quarter of the year.

The prime is the interest rate banks charge on loans to businesses which are their best and biggest customers. In time, its ups and downs are reflected in interest charges on smaller loans for consumers.

Last Tuesday, Bank of America announced it was cutting charges on some of these loans the equivalent of half a per cent. It was the latest in a series of cuts over an 18-month period and the loans affected have ranged from those for home improvements to those customers get through bank credit cards.

Since early 1970 the prime has edged downward at most banks from 8 to 4 1/2 per cent in a series of 20 cuts made by bankers after studies of market and business conditions. First National City and a handful of other banks recently adopted an automatically adjusted prime rate which in some cases has gone down another step, to 4 1/2 per cent.

One of the things which push up the prime rate down in the long run is a large and expanding national money supply. Like any commodity, money is cheaper if there's a lot of it around.

Probably more important is the pace of business. If business is slow, business demand for credit goes down. And if banks want to sell loans to businesses, they have to hold down their price—the prime rate.

One way to stimulate business, many economists contend, is to make money even cheaper, so that companies will borrow it and put it to work. The Federal Reserve has done this in recent weeks by buying large amounts of government securities from the open market, which puts more money into circulation. Its activity in the open market has at least helped hold the prime and other interest rates down.

No Trouble for Insurance Plan

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An expected controversy did not develop Wednesday as the House approved 94-0 a bill to help finance a proposed group health insurance program for an estimated 16,000 state employees.

The bill would make an appropriation of $1,008,540 to be put in a trust fund to pay the state contribution of $5 per month in the next fiscal year for each participating employee.

The actual cost of the program would depend on how many of the 16,000 eligible employees participate.

Most of the money to start the program would come from the funds of participating agencies. Some estimates are that about $200,000 in uncommitted general revenue would be needed for the plan.

The measure was one of six approved Wednesday by the House. The Senate approved 33 bills. The grand totals for the special legislative session's first three days are 44 bills approved by the House and 35 by the Senate.

Legislative action has been completed on only two bills, however—one appropriating $85,425 for Senate expenses, the other appropriating $113,570 for House expenses.

All other measures approved by the House await consideration in the Senate and all Senate-approved measures await House action.

Only one dissenting vote was cast in the Senate Wednesday as the upper chamber speedily approved 33 bills. One of them would appropriate $262,000 to finance underground installation of an electrical system at the state Capitol. The House had approved its own version of the bill Tuesday, but recalled it for amendment.

Rep. John Plegge of Little Rock offered the amendment, which would have removed authority from Secretary of State Kelly Bryant to handle arrangements for the proposed electrical work.

The amendment would have required the state purchasing director to take bids on the work and then award the contract. Plegge said the bill would not require Bryant to take bids on the project.

"I think it's time we quit giving these people unchecked power," Rep. Jim Roberts of Truman said in behalf of the amendment.

Rep. Frank Henslee of Pine Bluff said the amendment was "bad precedent." He said it gave contractual authority to "bureaucrats."

"If Bryant doesn't handle the money right, they (the voters) can defeat him," said Henslee. The amendment was rejected on a vote of 41-42.

The House approved bills to add $100,000 to the governor's emergency fund to expand the general adult education program of the state Education Department and another $100,000 to the fund for air conditioning and repairs at the state Blind School.

The Senate and House approved their own versions of the bill to appropriate $100,000 to the Education Department for payment to the Texarkana School District to help finance construction of a vocational high school to serve 500 to 600 pupils in the area.

That was a hot topic in the House Tuesday, but was approved 76-6 Wednesday. The Senate vote was 34-0.

The money is to be used with $100,000 in local funds to match $300,000 in funds from the Model Cities Program.

Both chambers approved bills appropriating $50,000 in this fiscal year and $100,000 in the next so the state can participate in a federal program by which government surplus property overseas may be obtained.

Concerned About Cost of Sewage Facility Grants

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Concern was expressed in the Senate Wednesday about the cost of Gov. Dale Bumpers' proposal to provide state grants to aid local sewage facility development.

S. Ladd Davies, director of the Pollution Control and Ecology Department, and bond lawyer Hershel Friday of Little Rock were among four witnesses who explained the plan to the Senate.

Two bills have been introduced for Bumpers. One would appropriate $1 million. The other would authorize the state Board of Finance to issue up to $10 million in revenue bonds.

The funds would be used to add cities, towns, counties, school districts and other units of government in financing sewage projects and increasing the portion the federal government might finance from 60 per cent to 75 per cent.

Under questioning by Sen.

John F. "Mutt" Gibson of Dermott, Friday told the Senate that the interest on a 20-year issue of the entire $10 million would total $854,234 per year.

"That's what the taxpayers would pay," Gibson said.

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swift-on said that with the interest expense the state and local governments could pay about $18 million to realize benefits worth only about $11 million.

"I'm just not sure you're getting a real good deal here," he said. "I'd rather just appropriate the money and save that interest."

Davies said that the plan would aid local communities which are unable to come up with 40 per cent of the estimated cost of sewage projects in their areas, but probably could come up with 10 to 15 per cent of the cost.

At best, the program would involve the federal government paying 75 per cent of the cost of such projects with the local area and the state paying the other 25 per cent of the cost. Under existing systems, state and local units must provide 40 per cent of the cost.

Several senators said, however, that the inability of an area to come up with its share of the cost was due to the refusal of residents of the areas to take the burden on themselves by issuing bonds on their own.

Sens. J. A. Womack of Camden, Carl Sorrells of Atkins and Jim Caldwell of Rogers said they feared that communities which had taken the initiative would not benefit from the legislation while laggardly areas would be benefitted.

"What's in there to keep local incentive?" they asked.

The witnesses said the federal legislation, pending in Congress, probably would have some sort of retroactive provision to aid such localities, but they said they could not be sure how far back such coverage would go or how much it would help.

Most Racketeers Have Legitimate Business

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 85 per cent of the nation's racketeers are engaged in legitimate business activities, with restaurants, bars and taverns heading the list, the Internal Revenue Service says.

In its 1971 annual report, the IRS said today it has information that about 2,000 persons are considered major racketeers in the United States.

Officials provided few details, but said there are 217 restaurants, bars and taverns in which racketeers are engaged. This figure includes both major and minor racketeers, the IRS said, and "there could be two or more racketeers in one restaurant." The report did not define "major" and "minor" racketeers.

The IRS listed 186 businesses in the real estate and insurance field in which racketeers are engaged. Other major fields and the number of businesses involved:

Legalized gambling, including casinos and race tracks, 117; finance, including banking and stocks, 86; the professions, including lawyers, accountants and doctors, 82;

Entertainment and recreation, 77; construction, 71; hotels and motels, 68; manufacturing, 64; food sales, 62; automobile sales and services, 56; trucking and transportation, 52; and liquor sales, 50.

The final listing was federal, state and local government employment, 51. There was no explanation of whether this represented 51 individuals or 51 governmental bodies in which racketeers are engaged.

The IRS report delves into efforts to combat organized crime and notes that government strike forces are concentrated in 18 strategic locations.

Links Politics to Texarkana Firing

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) —

Willis B. Smith, senior partner in the Texarkana law firm of Smith, Stroud, McClerkin, Conway and Dunn, said Wednesday he suspects that politics was behind the termination of a contract between the law firm and the state Highway Department.

The firm had handled right-of-way cases in Southwest Arkansas for more than 10 years. The contract was terminated three weeks ago and Smith said the department gave him no reason for the cancellation.

Smith said, however, he believed state Sen. Bob Douglas of Texarkana and John Harsh of Magnolia, chairman of the state Highway Commission, were responsible for the contract being canceled.

"It was Bob Douglas and John Harsh—I know," said Smith.

Smith also said Douglas, who is a member of the Texarkana School Board, was responsible for getting his firm dismissed as the board's legal counsel. The board now retains Ned Stewart, whom Smith said was a friend of Douglas.

Douglas also recommended Stewart to Gov. Dale Bumpers for appointment to the state Oil and Gas Commission, and the governor made the appointment.

Smith's firm includes Hayes C. McClerkin, the former speaker of the House of Representatives and an unsuccessful candidate for governor. McClerkin has been rumored as a possible candidate for Douglas' Senate post.

Thomas B. Keys, chief of the legal section of the Highway Department, said the department changed lawyers "from time to time" but declined to say which lawyer or firm would be retained at Texarkana. He said negotiations were under way and that a new legal contract would be executed soon.

Keys said he had never talked to Douglas. "It's just one of those things," he said. "You can't continue to hire the same people again and again."
